Inclusive Scholarships of École normale supérieure

at the core of the school's inclusion plan

FOR AN INCLUSIVE SCHOOL

"École normale supérieure is more diverse and inclusive than most people realize, and it aims to become even more so, enhancing its societal missions. As a school dedicated to research and training through research, it strives to be diverse, attracting and welcoming all talents, and combining various professions and strengths. Inclusiveness is central to the school's mission."

Social Scholarships

Funded entirely by your donations, these scholarships are at the heart of the school's inclusivity and social diversity plan.

The ENS Foundation's inclusive scholarships provide a supplement of up to 75% of the amount of the CROUS* scholarship, i.e. between €673 and €3,696 per year depending on the level.

Our goal is to have 30% of incoming students on scholarships by 2025.

TESTIMONIALS

"Since I do not receive the salary of a trainee civil servant, the additional funding I have received since joining ENS has been invaluable. It has allowed me to purchase essential, often expensive, books for my research and preparation for my agrégation, without having to choose between good working conditions and a full fridge.

The funding also helped me finance two computers (one and its replacement), which are my primary working tools." O., L3 student.

"This year, I'm benefiting from financial support from the ENS Foundation, which means a lot to me. Not only does this help finance my essential expenses, but it also means I can look forward to continuing my studies with greater peace of mind. Next year, I'll be able to start my doctoral studies. I would particularly like to thank the donors for their generosity and their support in helping me to succeed in my studies." Bryan R., M2 student
